When we finally got to see more of its massive DLC after its original May launch, we have two distinct. Saints Row The Third - Gangstas In Space Mod. Se ho detto, cosa. " Polygon.A representative of the Syrian government, speaking in an interview with Russia's state-owned news agency RIA Novosti, acknowledged the existence of the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights and said it was "the main source of information on the events inside the country." "There is no question about the existence of this observer, who is allowed in all areas, including areas that the regime or the Russians have seized," the official said. "Since the regime and the Russians have seized some areas, the head of this organization is allowed to visit all these areas, but on foot, in order not to destabilize the situation."

The anonymous official could not be located for comment. It is unclear how the Syrian regime had come to hear about the organization, or whether it had learned about it independently. The Syrian Foreign Ministry rarely has commented on the Syrian conflict, and an external Syrian government source who spoke to The New York Times was unfamiliar with the group. A RIA Novosti reporter in Tartus, Syria, confirmed that the Syrian official was speaking the truth, and that the Syrian Foreign Ministry had not provided any specific information on the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights. The Syrian government shut down the Syrian Center for Media and Freedom of Expression, as part of a crackdown on opposition-funded media, on Feb. 19. The Assad government is working to protect Syrian government areas from rebel attacks by arming the local militia in those areas with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades and other weapons. While the Syrian Foreign Ministry official said that the Syrian government was not concerned about the proliferation of militias, rebels who have seized cities in Syria have consistently undermined the authority of the army by running local security and municipal affairs. Rebel groups and their local allies, with support from Turkey and the United States, have tried to weaken the presence of the Syrian Army in towns they seize. It remains unclear who exactly is running the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights. "Some say it's a Syrian-American group, 50b96ab0b6
